BRER RABBIT PREACHES.

"Altogether a most charming book."—CHICAGO TIMES.

On the Plantation.

By JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, author of "Uncle Remus." With 23 illustrations by E. W. Kemble, and portrait of the author. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

The most personal and in some respects the most important work which Mr. Harris has published since "Uncle Remus." Many will read between the lines and see the autobiography of the author. In addition to the stirring incidents which appear in the story, the author presents a graphic picture of certain phases of Southern life which have not appeared in his books before. There are also new examples of the folk-lore of the negroes, which became classic when presented to the public in the pages of "Uncle Remus."

"The book is in the characteristic vein which has made the author so famous and popular as an interpreter of plantation character."—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

"Those who never tire of Uncle Remus and his stories—with whom we would be accounted—will delight in Joe Maxwell and his exploits."—London Saturday Review.

"The story is well told throughout, and is certain to rank among Mr. Harris' best works. To say the least, it is the most interesting literature of the kind recently published."—Richmond (Va.) Times.

"A charming little book, tastefully gotten up. . . . Its simplicity, humor and individuality would be very welcome to any one who was weary of the pretentiousness and the dull obviousness of the average three-volume novel."—London Chronicle.

The Human Mind.

A Text-Book of Psychology. By JAMES SULLY, M.A., LL.D., Examiner in Mental and Moral Science in the University of London; author of "Illusions," "Pessimism," etc. 2 vols., 8vo, cloth, $5.00.

The present work is an expansion and further elaboration of the doctrine set forth in the author's "Outlines of Psychology." Although the mode of arrangement and of treatment is in the main similar, the book may be described as a new and independent publication. It is specially intended for those who desire a fuller presentation of the latest results of psychological research than was possible in a volume which aimed at being elementary and practical.

What to Do.

A companion to "Don't." By MRS. OLIVER BELL BUNCE. Small 12mo, cloth, gilt, uniform with Boudoir edition of "Don't." 30 cents.

A dainty little book, containing helpful and practical explanations of social usages and rules. It tells the reader how to entertain and how to be entertained, and it sets forth the etiquette of engagements and marriages, introductions and calls.

LATEST ISSUES IN Appletons' Town and Country Library.

No. 92. Don Braulio.

By DON JUAN VALERA, author of "Pepita Ximenez," "Doña Luz," etc. Translated from the Spanish by Clara Bell. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

No. 91. Amethyst: The Story of a Beauty.

By CHRISTABEL R. COLERIDGE, author of "Lady Betty," "Jack o' Lanthorn," etc. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

No. 90. The Story of Philip Methuen.

By MRS. J. H. NEEDELL, author of "Stephen Ellicott's Daughter," etc. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

No. 89. My Guardian.

A REVOLUTION IN S. S. TEACHERS' BIBLES.

WE HAVE JUST ISSUED

A JUBILEE MEMORIAL EDITION OF THE SACRED SCRIPTURES, ENTITLED THE HOLMAN SELF-PRONOUNCING S. S. TEACHER'S BIBLE.

JT is a well-known fact that the Scriptures are filled with many words of obscure origin and construction, and that it is difficult to determine their correct pronunciation. Our New Self-Pronouncing Teacher's Bible overcomes this difficulty completely.

Every proper name in the text is syllabified and accented, and has the vowels marked according to the best modern standards of pronunciation. The text is in exact conformity with that of the world-famous Oxford S. S. Teacher's Bible. The type-setting is the work of the well-known Riverside Press, Cambridge, Mass.

ALL THE VALUABLE

HELPS TO THE STUDY OF THE BIBLE

contained in the Oxford edition are retained. These have been justly styled "the essence of fifty volumes, by men of Sacred learning." "A complete library of Scriptural knowledge in a small compass," etc., etc.

This new Self-Pronouncing S. S. Teacher's Bible is indispensable to the Clergy, Students, S. S. Teachers, and to all who would read the Word of God intelligently. The helps are complete and reliable, the references full and accurate, and the volume is easy to carry and convenient to handle.

Correspondence with live booksellers, who are interested in the latest and best selling works, is solicited.

ATTENTION IS ALSO INVITED TO THE Standard Editions of our Family and Pulpit Bibles.

NOTES IN SEASON.

C. L. WEBSTER & CO. have just ready William Sharp's poems, "Flower o' the Vine: Romantic ballads, and Sospiri di Roma." It was "Flower o' the Vine" which won Mr. Sharp his first success in England, and it is believed that this first American edition of his poems will add to the reputation he has made in this country by "A Fellowe and His Wife," written in collaboration with Blanche Willis Howard, and as editor of the "Life and Letters of Joseph Severn." The volume has an introduction by Thomas A. Janvier and contains a portrait of the author.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready a work on "China Collecting in America," by Alice Morse Earle, who for years has been a persistent china hunter, and this book is a narrative fresh, spirited and humorous, of her experiences and adventures in this fascinating pursuit. Every phase of this neglected subject is discussed entertainingly and with the full knowledge of an expert. Seventy-five illustrations add to the value and interest of the volume. Besides this they have ready: "The Colonial Era," by Prof. George P. Fisher, D.D., of Yale, The American History Series, 12mo, $1.25. Prof. Fisher's work is the first in a series of four (issued under the general title of The American History Series), which together will give a compact, graphic history of the American people from the earliest discoveries to the present time. In Prof. Fisher's narrative manners, customs, intellectual progress and political development are vividly portrayed. The other volumes will be by Prof. Sloane of Princeton, General Francis A. Walker and Prof. Burgess of Columbia. "Dreams and Days," by George Parsons Lathrop, a neat volume in which are gathered the most noteworthy poems Mr. Lathrop has written in recent years, the whole forming a charming collection of verse characterized by variety, significance and beauty. "Sevenoaks," by Dr. J. G. Holland in their Yellow Paper Cover Series, completes their list of new books for this week.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. send out this week "Cardinal Manning," in the series of English Leaders of Religion. It is by A. W. Hutton, who writes as an Anglican, but who endeavors to give an impartial account of the life of Cardinal Manning while in the Anglican Church and also in the Roman Catholic. Next week they expect to publish Dr. Abbott's "Evolution of Christianity," which contains in a revised form the lectures which he gave last winter before the Lowell Institute in Boston, which called forth large audiences and no little criticism. The book is written in a scholarly yet popular manner, and is quite sure of a large reading. Prof. Norton has completed the translation of Dante's "Divine Comedy," and the third portion, the Paradise, will appear next week; at the same time will appear the seventh volume in the series of American Religious Leaders, the "Life of Henry B. Smith," the famous professor in the Union Theological Seminary, by the late Prof. L. F. Stearns, of Bangor Theological Seminary; also a new illustrated edition of Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter," uniform in size and general style with the holiday edition of the "Marble Faun," and containing photogravures of the twelve admirable outline designs made several years ago by Mr. Darley, and now reproduced in a form smaller than heretofore; a large-paper edition of Dr. Holmes' memoirs of Mr. Emerson and Mr. Motley; a new and revised edition of Sweetser's three popular guide-books for New England, the White Mountains, and the Maritime Provinces; in the Riverside Paper Series Miss Phelps and Mr. Ward's striking story, "The Master of the Magicians;" also, the second volume of a journal of ethnology and archaeology, edited by J. Walter Fewkes.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A.: Augustus; B.: Benjamin; C.: Charles; D.: David; E.: Edward; F.: Frederic; G.: George; H.: Henry; I.: Isaac; J.: John; L.: Louis; N.: Nicholas; P.: Peter; R.: Richard; S.: Samuel; T.: Thomas; W.: William.

Corson, Hiram. Primer of English verse: chiefly in its aesthetic and organic character. Bost., Ginn & Co., 1892. c. 4+232 p. D. cl., $1.10.

Essentials of poetry, such as rhythm, metre, stanza, rhyme, assonance, alliteration, melody and harmony, are shown in unison and as components of English verse, and their effects and relations to that subject are defined and analyzed. Varieties of verse and methods of well-known authors are introduced.

These thirteen sketches form a continuous story of the Pratt family, though they were first published separately and may be read separately. The Pratts were a typical New England family, whose odd characteristics and commonplace lives the writer succeeds admirably in depicting.

Going, C: Buxton. Summer-fallow. [Poems.] N. Y., G: P. Putnam's Sons, 1892. c. 6+96 p. D. cl., $1.

Hale, E: Everett and Lucretia P. The new Harry and Lucy: a story of Boston in the summer of 1891. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1892. c. 6+321 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

Harry and Lucy were fictitious creations of Maria Edgeworth. The present Harry and Lucy, who have surnames identical with those of Thomas Day's "Sandford and Merton," resemble the originals of Miss Edgeworth's story in name, and in the fact of their correspondence being used as a means of showing the Boston of to-day. Notable features, with current action latest topics, recent fads and foibles of society, religion and the educational system are discussed in their individual letters. The relationship of the hero and heroine, however, differs from Miss Edgeworth's Harry and Lucy; hence a romantic conclusion.

Kipling, Rudyard. Ballads and barrack-room ballads. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. c. 11+207 p. D. cl., $1.25.

"Mr. Kipling's volume of poems is for the most part new, although the 'Barrack-room ballads,' with which the volume concludes, have been published before, and several of the other ballads have already appeared in the magazines. The rest of the book is new. The best of the ballads are exceedingly spirited. Mr. Kipling, we think, shows good judgment in opening his book with 'The ballad of east and west.' The story which forms the subject of this ballad is a very good one and is admirably told. It is told without redundancy, and yet sufficiently and, as every ballad story should be told, clearly. The subject is Indian."—New York Times.

Lewis, Mrs. Harriet. Edith Trevor's secret: a novel; il. by Warren B. Davis. N. Y., Rob. Bonner's Sons, [1892.] c. '77, '92. 4-347 p. D. (Choice ser., no. 59.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

The scene is in Zorlitz parsonage in the Black Forest, and St. Leonards, Sussex, England. Edith, Lady Trevor, incurred the displeasure of her grandfather, Lord St. Leonards, by an ill-judged marriage. After her widowhood she attempted to remedy matters by a treacherous act that involved a fortune, the fate of an infant and the happiness of Cecil Rosse and the Earl of Glenham. The interest is in the machinations of Lady Trevor with their final developments.

Parry, Gambier. The story of Dick. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 237 p. D. (Macmillan's dollar novel ser.) cl., $1.

When the regiment to which "Dick's" father belonged went out to India, he asked his brother, Martin Yell, to give Dick a home on the farm until he was a few years older. Mrs. Yell reluctantly received Dick, as she feared he would make her own boy, Albert, wish to become a soldier. The story only covers a few years of the boy's life, and shows how he finally wins his aunt's love through his brave, manly spirit.

Pascoe, C: Eyre. London of to-day: an illustrated handbook for the season, 1892. 8th annual ed., rev. and enl. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1892. 6+434 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

In a note to this edition Mr. Pascoe says: "The earlier and some other chapters have been, as heretofore, rewritten. Other new matter and illustrations have been added, and the whole has been revised and, as far as possible, brought up to date. In several particulars this book differs from most works of its class published. Practically it is a new-made book every year. Though originally planned solely as a guide to visitors, a purpose it still principally fulfills, in reality it is somewhat more. It is in part also a record of all that seems most worth noting in the life of London of to-day."

In the present edition inaccuracies are corrected, information is brought up to date, and two additional chapters deal with the circulation of the Bible and facts relative to Old Testament text.

Sabetti, Rev. A. The decree "Quemadmodum" with explanations. Balt., J. Murphy & Co., 1892. c. 26 p. O. pap., 25 c.

The decree "Quemadmodum" was promulgated the 17th December, 1890, in order to suppress abuses that had arisen in certain religious communities. Notes and remarks on its bearings and meanings are given, with explanation of parts that seem difficult of interpretation.

Saunders, F.; comp. Story of the discovery of the New World by Columbus. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1892. c. 6-145 p. por. il. D. cl., $1.

The aim of a timely volume is to present a brief but accurate and comprehensive sketch of the career of Columbus, with the facts of his great achievement, the discovery of America. The work is divided in five parts; each of these gives an episode of the voyage or in the life of Christopher Columbus, excepting the final and fifth part, which is a summary of the conflicting estimates of the character of Columbus, made by distinguished biographers. The compiler is Librarian Astor Library, New York, and author of "Salad for the solitary."

Tuttle, Hudson. The convent of the Sacred Heart. Phil., The Carter Pub. Co., 1892. c. 173 p. D. (Portrait ser., no. 2.) cl., 50 c.; pap., 25 c.

San Alegro is the site of the Convent of the Sacred Heart and the scene of Zelda Joslyn's enforced religious zeal. The story is based on an episode in the life of a young nun. Rather revolting details are entered into, the author claiming that his book is an exposé of Roman Catholic convent life.

United States. (State Department.) Bureau of American Republics. Bulletin no. 35, Breadstuffs in Latin America (compiled from official returns to October 1, 1891.) Wash., D. C., Government Print. Office, [1892.] 9 p. O. pap., n. p.

By the Reciprocity Treaty of October 1, 1890, the domestic breadstuffs of the United States are admitted free of duty into the ports of Brazil and the Spanish West Indies. It is intended if the treaty can be carried out to extend this free exportation to all the American republics and colonies. This little pamphlet offers tables of the value of the exports of breadstuffs from the United States to Latin America for the last ten years, with the duties on them, those on the free list, etc.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALBANY, N. Y.—A. H. Clapp, who was for twelve years with B. Quinn, has opened business on his own account at 32 Maiden Lane. He will keep a well-selected stock of books and stationery and supply the leading journals and magazines. He will make specialties of office supplies, leather goods and engraving.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Griggs & Co. and Flannagan & Co. have removed to 262 Wabash Avenue.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Britannica Publishing Co. continues the business formerly conducted as the Henry G. Allen Co. The new firm is a corporation of which J. R. Casselberry is President and General Manager; Samuel H. Hauxford, Vice-President, and George R. Macey, Secretary and Treasurer. The company will handle the "Encyclopædia Britannica" reprint, the reprint of the old "Webster's Dictionary" and several other publications noted elsewhere.

NEW YORK CITY.—H. S. Allen has removed to Room 47, Clinton Hall, Astor Place.

NEW YORK CITY.—There will be, practically, no change in the policy or the management of The Century Co. by reason of the death of its late President, Mr. Roswell Smith. His interests in the business remain, and the affairs of the company will be conducted by the men who have been Mr. Smith's associates for many years, and with whom he has left the business direction during the three years of his illness. Mr. Frank H. Scott, who has been connected with the company from its inception, becomes the President. The other officers, Mr. Charles F. Chichester, Treasurer, and Mr. William W. Ellsworth, Secretary, have been with the company almost from the beginning. All of the important positions in The Century Co. are filled by men who have an interest in the business, as Mr. Roswell Smith has from time to time disposed of considerable portions of his stock to his associates, having in view the uninterrupted continuance of the work of the company.

PITTSBURG, PA.—The partnership between Robert S. Davis and Harry F. Davis, who have carried on business as R. S. Davis & Co. since 1879, has been dissolved, R. S. Davis having transferred his interest to his son, who will continue the business as heretofore. Mr. Davis, Sr., has been a prominent figure in Pittsburg for forty-five years, and is perhaps the oldest representative bookseller in Western Pennsylvania. He started in business in Pittsburg in 1845 with the Nation's Trust Co. and W. S. Haven & Co., blank-book manufacturers. He then purchased the book business of Mr. Davidson, and later was associated with S. A. Clarke, the well-known bookseller, under the firm-name of Davis, Clarke & Co. About 1867 Mr. Clarke retired from the firm, and the name was changed to R. S. Davis & Co. In 1877 Mr. Davis sold the business to J. M. Wilkinson and retired, his son, Harry F., going with J. R. Weldin & Co. Two years later Mr. Davis and his son purchased the business, and have continued it under the name of R. S. Davis & Co. until the present time. It was a small store when it came into the hands of Mr. Davis and his son, whose management has built it up to what it is at present, they having five or six times the trade of the store they purchased. Mr. Davis will continue to make his headquarters at 96 Fifth Avenue, although not actively engaged.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Jordan Bros. have sold their old book department to William H. Smith, who has opened a new and old book store at 119 North 9th Street. Jordan Bros. have removed to 1228 Filbert Street, and will in the future confine their attention to the publishing and jobbing of books. Their business has assumed such dimensions that they were unable to give their old book department the attention it demanded.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MAY 7, 1892.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The next important reason is that the Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY forms the basis of "The American Catalogue" and so the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE NET PRICE SYSTEM.

ONE of the more sensible recent contributions to the discussion of the discount question is that of Mr. H. B. Collins of Cassell & Co., which appeared in the March issue of the London Bookman.

Mr. Collins opens his remarks by pointing out that the system of giving discount on books for cash is by no means new in the book trade. He remembers thirty-five years ago a bookseller in Exeter advertising 2d. in 1s. off for cash, but thinks Glasgow led the way some sixteen years since in offering 3d. off—and since then it has spread throughout the Kingdom, and not for cash only, but many booksellers are compelled to allow it off credit also. The evil, he rightly claims, began and has been carried on to its present excess by competition among the booksellers themselves. Indeed he might have claimed as justly that the evil is as old as the book trade itself—a case being on record of a protest being made by certain booksellers of Leipzig on April 11, 1668, against the evil of allowing book buyers a discount of five, sometimes six, per cent. This protest seems to have had but little effect, for the evil grew steadily. To meet it the bookseller demanded of the publisher or printer an increased trade discount, so that it reached the ridiculous height of fifty per cent. In the early part of this century a number of German publishing houses adopted a net system allowing a maximum discount of fifteen per cent. Later, owing to the demands of the bookseller, the discount was gradually raised until the rule became an average discount of a third (33 1/3%). Later again the discount was reduced to a quarter (25%) which we believe is now the rule. Mr. Collins also arrives at the opinion that the remedy recently proposed, viz., the net system, is impracticable even if it were feasible; who, he asks, "is to enforce its general adoption, or continuance if adopted?"

To the suggestion that the publishers are the persons to see that the plan is carried out, he replies that it is manifestly impossible to expect all the publishers to unite and work harmoniously for this object; to investigate the actions of their patrons and to strike good customers from their lists on the strength of reports received. Supposing even the net system was in general use for a time, as long as human nature lasts there will be competition; gradually discounts would be offered to induce sales; and in a short time affairs would be in the same condition they are at present.

The remedy must be found by the booksellers themselves, and this effectual remedy Mr. Collins believes to be the formation of "a union or guild of booksellers in each town, agreeing together to certain conditions as to the retail trade, after taking all circumstances into consideration." In some towns in England this has been already done, 2d. in 1s. being allowed strictly for cash on stock books at 2s. 6d. and upwards, all below 2s. 6d. being sold at the published price. This plan is certainly not impracticable, at any rate not nearly as impracticable as the proposed union of publishers, for in any large town the number of booksellers necessary to unite together would not be very great and any reasonable plan for fairer trade would be gladly welcomed by the smaller dealers and news agents who feel the pinch most severely. In fact the arrangement would be reduced to the formation of a mutual agreement between the leading booksellers of each town, and this uniting of the trade in self defence would probably solve the difficulty and lead to fairer and better general conditions of trade.

This is also practically what the Virginia booksellers, and, more recently, those of the Northwest, are striving to do. Thus far the Southern trade has had every reason to feel satisfied with the experiment, and has met with encouragement enough to extend on still broader lines. Whether the movement will succeed and become lasting depends altogether upon the integrity of the individuals engaged in it.

UNFORTUNATELY all combinations in commercial specialties suffer from one radical flaw—the sense of honor in all concerned is not high enough to hold them strictly to their obligations. We are far from meaning to reflect upon the book trade, but in every large congregation there are some weak brethren. Into the store of these a customer comes, desiring to buy fifty dollars' worth of books. The brother offers a discount according to rule; the customer says he can do better and is withdrawing, when the brother's cupidity proving too strong for his moral obligation, he calls the buyer back and throws off five per cent. additional. Perhaps seven out of ten brethren would let the customer go, but would the other three do likewise? If they didn't, how long would an obligation, thus rendered partly inoperative, restrain even the most conscientious, who could obey it only by the ruinous sacrifice of their material interests? The principle of the proposed reform is sound; but to its successful application, not only a truer harmony of opinion than now exists in the book trade is prerequisite, but also a more general preference of strict good faith in practice to pecuniary profit.

THE ORGANIZATION OF THE GERMAN BOOK TRADE.—II.

BY ED. ACKERMANN.

AN important aid in the business of the Leipzig agent is the Bestellanstalt, a clearing-house, belonging to the association of German booksellers, known as the Boersen-Verein, which counts among its members almost every German bookseller and publisher. There are in Leipzig 164 agencies representing over 7500 booksellers and publishers. Many of these agencies represent over one hundred firms, the two largest having over five hundred names on their list. As these agents receive daily about 5000 orders, circulars, etc., it would naturally be supposed that the distribution of this matter would require an army of distributing clerks and messengers. But such is not the case. The orders, circulars, etc., are all turned in to the clearing-house where they are rapidly assorted according to the agents by special clerks and returned in several daily deliveries. They are then finally assorted by the agents and despatched to their rightful destination. The cost of maintaining this clearing-house amounts to about 15,000 marks a year, which is contributed by the agents, who are divided into classes and taxed according to the size of their business, the largest firms paying about one thousand marks annually and the smallest something like three marks.

Among German booksellers and publishers yearly accounts are the rule, running from January 1 to December 31. The greater part of the business is done "on sale," the publishers sending out the bulk of their new publications either without order or (as many retailers prefer to choose their stock themselves) according to the orders received in answer to the announcements in the Boersenblatt, the daily trade paper, or to the special order lists announcing each new publication which are usually sent to all the booksellers.

This "on sale" method has several advantages: the publications become generally known all over Germany; equally large assortments of new books are found in the smallest as in the largest towns, and the sale of books is largely increased. It is also in accordance with this method that the retail bookseller sends to his customers "on approval" new books in which he believes them especially interested. At the end of the year the publishers send printed blank invoices to the retail booksellers stating which books must be returned and which, if unsold, may be brought forward on a new "on sale" account. Then begins the great trial of the year for the German bookseller: turning over the stock and arranging it according to publishers, returning unsold copies and settling the yearly accounts; while for the publisher begins the much dreaded season of "crabs," as the returned unsold stock is called. At this time, also, another advantage of the Leipzig clearing-house becomes evident, viz., in the payment of annual statements by the agents on account of their principals. This takes place during the week between Jubilate and Cantate and concludes with great festivity at the annual meeting of the booksellers' association which is held in the new and handsome booksellers' exchange building in Leipzig and attended by publishers and booksellers from all parts of Germany.

A few statistics of the German book trade may here be given: In 1890 there were in Germany 7474 booksellers, including publishers, retailers, dealers in art publications, music, etc. Of book publishers alone there were 1165; art publishers, 266; music publishers, 230; second-hand booksellers, 195; art-dealers, 132; music-dealers, 220; the remainder carried on a business in two or more of these branches. These 7474 booksellers are scattered over 1645 cities, the 1160 German cities containing 5697. Berlin leads the list with 720 booksellers in a population of 1,500,000; Vienna with a population of 1,252,000, has about 200; Stuttgart with 126,000 inhabitants has 134, and Leipzig counts about 600 booksellers in a population of 300,000 souls. The literary production of last year in Germany amounted to 8875 works.

A TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN ART.

THE Society of American Wood-Engravers has just received the "Diploma of Honor," awarded it by the jury of the International Art Exhibition of Berlin for 1891. There was no higher prize than this given, and it is a trophy to be proud of. The society which has obtained this distinguished recognition has just completed the tenth year of its existence. Its purpose is to "advance art in wood-engraving." Its effort in furtherance of this object was the production five years ago of a collection of twenty-five large engravings from the work of American artists, which was published by Harper & Brothers in two forms—an édition de luxe, consisting of a portfolio of "Japan proofs," and a popular edition in which the engravings were printed on heavy plate paper.

The society has won honors in two other international exhibitions—in that of Vienna, 1883, and of the Exposition Universelle, at Paris, in 1889. At present, according to Harper's Weekly, it is employed under the encouragement of Halsey C. Ives, Commissioner of Fine Arts, in getting up a unique exhibit of original and purely artwork for the Columbian Exhibition.

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION.

NORTHWESTERN BOOKSELLERS AND NEWS-
DEALERS' ASSOCIATION.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

WHEREAS, Organization, concert of action and comparison of ideas are necessary to advancement of any cause, and believing there is room for the elevation and extension of knowledge and general information among booksellers and newsdealers of the Northwest, and that there exists a necessity for union of action, mutual protection and interest, and that such results can be best accomplished by organization; Therefore be it resolved, That the booksellers and newsdealers of various States in the Northwest do hereby organize into a permanent association for the purpose of nurturing and protecting their mutual interest, and that they adopt the following Constitution and By-laws.

CONSTITUTION.

Article I.—This Association shall be called The Northwestern Booksellers and Newsdealers' Association.

Article II. Objects.—The aim of this Association shall be to unite the booksellers and newsdealers of the Northwest for social, educational and protective purposes, assistance and encouragement; to prevent unnecessary competition and establish uniform prices and discounts, and in harmony work for the general good, presenting an unbroken front to publishers and manufacturers; that we may aid each other in procuring goods upon the most advantageous terms.

Article III. Membership.—Any person of good moral character residing and doing a regular book and news business in the Northwest shall be eligible to membership.

Article IV. Officers.—The officers of this Association shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Treasurer and Board of Directors of seven members; in addition to which the President, Vice-President, Secretaries and Treasurer shall be ex-officio members, all of whom shall be elected annually by ballot and shall hold office until the election of their successors.

Article V. Duties of Officers.—The President, or in his absence the Vice-President shall preside at all meetings of the Association; call special meetings at the request of five members; shall present at each annual meeting a report of the operations of the Association; shall request such subjects as he may think worthy of consideration, and perform such other duties as pertain to his office. The Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the Association. He shall keep a roll of members with their residences. He shall receive and file all official communications. The Assistant Secretary shall, on payment of the initiation fee, place on the books of the Association the name of each member elected; collect all dues, fines, assessments, etc.; keep just and true accounts between the Association and its members; pay to the Treasurer all money received on each night of meeting and take his receipt therefor. He shall notify members who shall be in arrears of the amount due by them, and that, in order to be reinstated in the Association they are required to pay such sum. He shall furnish semi-annual and yearly reports of all money received by him; of all the members gained and lost by the Association and the cause of such; of the members in good standing; of money in bank and in the hands of the Treasurer; and state whether it was received as fines, dues, initiation, or from what source it came, and declare the amount received every meeting night and from whom received, before the meeting adjourns. The Treasurer shall receive and pay out on proper vouchers all moneys received by him as Treasurer and make an annual report of the same.

Article VI. Board of Directors.—The Board of Directors, of which the President, Vice-President, Secretaries and Treasurer shall be ex-officio members, shall investigate applications for membership, prepare for publication any proceeding they may deem proper; examine Treasurer's accounts before each annual meeting, and have charge of all business not otherwise assigned. Three shall constitute a quorum.

Article VII. Meetings.—The annual meeting of the Association shall be held during July of each year, subject to the call of the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Special Meetings.—Special meetings of the Association shall be called by the President upon written request of five members. The notice shall state objects of meeting.

Article IX. By-Laws.—This Association may establish for its future government and regulation such By-laws as do not conflict with this Constitution, as may be deemed proper and advisable.

Article X. Amending Constitution.—This Constitution shall not be amended except by a two-thirds vote of the members.

BY-LAWS.

Article I. Quorum.—Ten members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Article II. Membership.—The names of persons applying for membership shall be presented to the Board of Directors, and upon their favorable report the Secretary shall receive such names as members.

Article III. Dues.—The Dues shall be $1.00 per annum, which shall be paid to the Treasurer within one month after the annual meeting. Each member shall sign the Constitution and By-Laws, which they can do by mail by requesting Secretary to add name to list of membership after having been recommended by Board of Directors.

Article IV. Rules.—Cushing's Parliamentary rules shall govern this Association.

Article V. Membership.—Membership of this Association shall be by firm, but each individual member of a firm shall be eligible to membership. Said firm shall be entitled to but one vote.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

BOOKSELLERS AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

CHARLES A. BURKHARDT, the head of the stationery department of E. P. Dutton & Co., has been elected to the Board of Trustees of the Booksellers and Stationers' Provident Association to fill the unexpired term of F. P. Lennon.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AUTHORS.

THE American Authors' Society was incorporated in Albany, May 4. Its avowed purpose is to "promote acquaintance among authors, to secure a clear understanding of the position and rights of authors in literary property; to furnish information to authors as to copyright laws, methods of publishing and forms of contracts; to assist authors in gaining accurate information as to the true value of their productions, and, when necessary, to secure that value, and to endeavor to elevate American literature." Its trustees are Will Carleton, Alfred H. Moment, Charles B. Lewis, Katharine Hodges, Mary F. Seymour, E. P. Ingorsoll, Eleanor Kirk Ames, Esther Hermann and Julia W. D. Thompson. The principal office of the Society is to be in New York City.

TARIFF DECISIONS.

THE Board of United States General Appraisers has rendered the following decisions on protests of importers:

E. Schubert & Co. v. Collector at New York—"Sheet Music," imported October 26, 1891. Duty was assessed as printed matter under paragraphs 420 and 423, N. T. Collector affirmed.

Breitkopf & Härtel, v. Collector at New York—"Printed Music in Foreign Languages." The claim of the importers that the merchandise was free under paragraph 513, was sustained.

Geo. D. Smith v. Collector at New York—"So-called Books—Lithographic Prints," imported July 17, 1891. The merchandise was catalogues containing lithographic prints of lace, and the only printing was advertisements. The board held that the goods were dutiable at 35 per cent. ad valorem under paragraph 420 N. T., as assessed by the collector.

OBITUARY NOTES.

LYMAN W. CASE, a retired lawyer and former book publisher in Hartford, Conn., died April 27, at Winsted, Conn. He was widely known as a freethinker and writer. Although a man of large means, he spent a great deal of his time in study in a log-cabin perched on a dizzy height known as Mount Case. Locally he was much loved for his charities.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MRS. ELIZABETH E. EVANS has made an exhaustive study of the Kaspar Hauser literature, new and old, and her just finished narrative is on the eve of publication.

WE regret to hear that Dr. Sanders' mammoth lexicon of the German language—the work of thirty years—cannot find a publisher. No one has the courage to undertake the risk of publishing so expensive a work. Very likely the German Government in time may be prevailed upon to give its assistance in the matter.

PROFESSOR ADOLPH GASPARY, of the University of Breslau, Germany, who died a few weeks ago, unfortunately did not complete his "History of Italian Literature." The first volume of the huge work appeared in 1885. The history promised to be the most exhaustive review of Italian literature in the German language. The first volumes were welcomed by the critics, and great regret is felt in Germany at the author's death. Efforts will be made, it is said, to continue the work.

MRS. OLIPHANT, notwithstanding the amount of fiction at present appearing from her pen, is making rapid progress with her "Life of Dr. Chalmers," which she is writing for the English Leaders of Religion series. Mrs. Oliphant has brought out in England a new edition of her biography of Laurence Oliphant, and has inserted therein a few words in reply to the carping disciples of Thomas Lake Harris, the prophet of Oliphant's sorrowful experiment. She does not retract nor soften down anything in her original statements and comments.

HENRY C. LEA is passing through the press a new work, called "A Formulary of the Papal Penitentiary in the Thirteenth Century," and based upon an old manuscript possessing a singular interest. The Penitentiary was the body entrusted with the Papal power of absolution and dispensation throughout Europe, and its use of this power, as exemplified in the several hundred cases embodied in the Formulary, throws light upon many points in the relations between the Holy See and the rest of Christendom and on the morals and manners of the period. The text of the MS. will be accompanied with an introduction and notes by Mr. Lea. The whole will make an octavo volume of about 200 pages.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

"The Knight Errant: being a magazine of appreciation," is the title of a sumptuous new quarterly review of the liberal arts, the first issue of which has just been published from the Elzevir Press, 106 Pearl Street, Boston. The review is a quarto (10½ x 13 inches) printed artistically on a rich laid paper, and embellished with a number of decorative head and tail pieces and initials by B. G. Goodhue. The table of contents of the first issue may give a slight idea of the literary character of the review: "An Apology," by the editors; a poem, by Louise Imogen Guiney, entitled "The Knight Errant;" "A portion of an address given in 1888," by Charles Eliot Norton, on the necessity for the culture of the poetic imagination; "A Criticism of the Methods which Obtain in Journalistic Reviewing of the Period," by Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue; "Concerning the Restoration of Idealism and the Raising to Honor once more of the Imagination," by Ralph Adams Cram; "Parsifal," a poem by Agnes Lee;

"The Lament of the Ivory Paper-Cutter," a dialogue in a library, by Brander Matthews; "A White Cauldron," a tale, by Bliss Carman; "Notes on the Life and Genius of Bernardino Luini," by H. B. Warren and others, accompanied by a photogravure of Luini's "La Columbina," which serves as a frontispiece to this issue. There is also a department of recent books and bookmaking. The Knight Errant promises to become a rare treat to the book-lover.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY will make an exhibit in which will appear copies of Bibles in more than 200 different languages.

BOND & Co., 576 Rookery, Chicago, have just issued a valuable advance guide to the Exposition, with engraved views of the grounds and buildings, portraits of its leading spirits, and a map of the city of Chicago; all of the rules governing the Exposition and exhibitors, and all information which can be given out in advance of its opening.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

B. QUARITCH has recently published "Bibliotheca Accipitaria: a catalogue of books, ancient and modern, relating to Falconry," with notes, glossary and vocabulary, by James Edmund Harting.

MR. GATFIELD'S promised "Guide to Printed Books and Manuscripts Relating to English and Foreign Heraldry and Genealogy" is nearly finished, and will be ready for issue this month. The work has been largely augmented while passing through the press, and contains now about 20,000 titles and other references, consisting of nearly 650 closely-printed pages. Only 300 copies are being printed.

Catalogues of New and Second-hand Books.—F. A. Brockhaus, Leipzig. Monthly list of new books published in Germany, France, England, America, Italy, Spain, Scandinavia, Russia and other countries. (March, No. 3).—C. N. Caspar, 437 E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Odds and Ends: miscellaneous books. (No. 35, 64 p. 16°).—S. H. Chadbourn, 57 Warren Street, Roxbury, Mass., Americana, etc. (No. 2, 819 titles).—E. Dufosse, 27 Rue Guénégaud, Paris, Americana. (8th ser., No. 5, 1245 titles).—Otto Harassowitz, Queerstr., 14, Leipzig, Classische Philologie u. Alterthumskunde, including the libraries of Prof. J. Sponberg, of Upsala, and Dr. P. Habrucker, of Marburg. Pt. 1: Scriptores graeci et latini, (2804 titles); Pt. 2: Alterthums Kunde. (2040 titles).—Francis P. Harper, 17 E. 16th Street, N. Y., Standard and out-of-print books, autograph letters, etc. (No. 64, 652 titles).—U. Hoepli, Corso Vittorio Emanuele, 37, Milan, Curiosità letterarie, facezie, magia, alchimia, usi, costumi, etc. (No. 78, 1703 titles).—S. F. McLean & Co., 13 Cooper Union, N. Y., New and Second-hand Religious and other books. (16 p. 16°).—J. W. Randolph & Co., Richmond, Va., Second-hand law-books. (No. 11, 30 p. 8°).—Henry Sotheran & Co., 136 Strand, London, Price Current of Literature, No. 514; also, Second-hand books on the fine arts, books of prints, etc. (March, 1892, 824 titles).—Charles L. Woodward, 78 Nassau Street, N. Y., Books and pamphlets relating more or less to Indians. (Supplement to new ser. No. 2, 17 p. 8°).

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

MISSES SEARLE & GORTON, Chicago, will publish a volume of blank verse by Blanche Fearing, entitled "In the City by the Lake."

WORTHINGTON Co. have just issued in their International Library "A Poor Girl," by W. Heimburg, translated by Elise L. Lathrop.

THE VAN CLEVE-ANDREWS Co., 10 Murray Street, N. Y., have in preparation a cheap Teacher's Bible which may be expected in the fall.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish at once the fifth volume of the English translation of Talleyrand's Memoirs; also, "The Story of the Byzantine Empire," by C. W. C. Oman.

ROBERTS BROTHERS have in preparation another volume of Miss Wormeley's translations from Balzac—"Albert Savarus," with which will be given "Paz" and "Mme. Firnirani."

THE CARTER PUBLISHING Co. have begun the publication of a new line of fiction under the general title of The Portrait Series. The first book in the issue is entitled "The Confessions of a Beauty;" the second, "Secrets of the Convent."

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation a new book by Marietta Holley ("Josiah Allen's Wife"), treating of the subject of the colonization of the negro. It will be illustrated by E. W. Kemble, who furnished the designs for "Thompson Street Poker Club."

F. J. SCHULTE & Co., Chicago, have in press for early publication "An Heir to Millions," by Edgar Fawcett; "The Price of the Ring," by Margaret Holmes; "A Common Man," by Lewis Vital Bogy, and "Winged Victory," by Mrs. Lindon W. Bates.

THE work by George G. Napier on "The Homes and Haunts of Lord Tennyson" will be published as a limited edition. For England there will be only 225 copies. It will be printed on Japanese paper, with nineteen full-page plates and seventy-eight other illustrations.

THE BRITANNICA PUB. Co., 739 Broadway, N. Y., will publish a work on "American Farming and Stock Raising," by J. R. Casselberry. They have secured the plates and right of publication of the work upon Egyptology, by Dr. Samuel Augustus Binion, entitled, "Mizraim."

MACMILLAN & Co. will publish at once as a volume in the Bohn Library, Edgerton Castle's important work on "Schools and Masters of Fence," which has heretofore only been obtainable in an expensive 4to form. The reprint will contain all the original illustrations and some additions in matter over the original work.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish at once another book by the famous Spanish novelist, Valera, the author of "Pepita Ximenez" and "Doña Luz." The title is "Don Braulio," and the book has been translated from the Spanish of "Pasarse de Listo" by Clara Bell. It will appear in Appleton's Town and Country Library.

G. W. DILLINGHAM is bringing out a twenty-five cent edition of Richard B. Kimball's works. The first volume, "Was He Successful?" has lately been published. This book has had a large circulation in this country and in Europe. It was published by Bentley in London, and by Tauchnitz in his collection of English authors. It was translated into French and German and was published in Low Dutch by Van Kampen, of Amsterdam.

GINN & CO. have just ready a new manual of single and double entry book-keeping, entitled "Business Book-keeping," by George E. Gay, Principal of the Malden, Mass., High School. It is adapted for school use and is scientifically arranged, the forms used having been selected from those in use by the best book-keepers of Boston and New York.

R. C. HARTRANFT, PHILA., announces a cheaper edition in paper covers of "Was Abraham Lincoln a Spiritualist?" The cloth-bound edition is now in its fourth thousand. Mr. Hartranft has in preparation a work entitled "Life in Two Spheres," by Hudson Tuttle, the well-known spiritualistic writer of Ohio, for which there are advance orders for two thousand copies.

HARPER & BROS. have published Dr. George Birkbeck Hill's "Letters of Dr. Samuel Johnson," issued in a handsome two-volume edition. Although this work does not contain any of the letters given by Boswell, it is a thoroughly complete collection and shows Dr. Johnson as a correspondent as no other publication has done. It is a fitting companion to the handsome "Boswell's Life of Johnson," also edited by Dr. Hill, recently published by the same house.

WILLIAM McCracken, Jr., publishing agent of the Pittsburg Book Directory of the Methodist Protestant Church, who has for over twenty years been connected with the business department of the Book Concern, severs his connection with that association this month. Mr. McCracken entered the Pittsburg Book Directory in November, 1871, and since 1882 has occupied the position of business manager. His judicious business methods largely increased the circulation of the Methodist Recorder and the Sunday-school publications of the Book Concern, and during the ten years that he has been the agent of the Directory the net capital has increased very nearly two hundred per cent.

CASSELL PUBLISHING CO. have just put a new edition of W. H. Mallock's novel, "A Human Document," on the market, to take the place of the first edition, in which the last eight chapters had been omitted. This omission was not the result of carelessness on the part of the New York publishers, who had set up the book from sheets bought of the London publishers. The sheets were sent from London in one package and it was necessary for the book to be rushed through the press for simultaneous publication in both countries. The "reader" reported that the story ended very abruptly, but the discovery that it was incomplete was not made until the book was bound and in circulation. The Cassells will either furnish the missing chapters to all who have bought the incomplete book, or will exchange for the correct edition.

THE INTERNATIONAL BIBLE AGENCY, 150 Fifth Avenue, N. Y., have secured the control of the line of Bibles and Testaments made by William Collins, Sons & Co., referred to by us in our issue of the 16th ult. The agency, in fact, will hereafter have exclusive control in this country of all the publications in this line issued by Collins. They have adopted the general title of the International Bible Series for their various issues, which will include Bibles of all sizes from pearl to pica, printed on both extra white and superfine India paper made especially for them. There will be new sizes of type, new bindings, and a complete set of new helps and maps for the Teachers' editions, edited under the supervision of scholars of America and Great Britain. Especial care has been taken in the selection of paper and leather and in every detail of manufacture, and the finest workmanship employed in all departments. New catalogues and a line of samples will be ready early in June.

A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philadelphia, will publish in June a "Self-Pronouncing Sunday-School Teacher's Bible," which they will issue in a Jubilee Memorial edition, in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America. The new and important feature of this publication is that every proper name in the text is syllabified, accented and diacritically marked according to the best modern standards of pronunciation, thus making the Bible "self-pronouncing," and obviating the difficulties often met with in the pronunciation of Scripture names. The letterpress of this Bible, together with all the Helps and Aids, Concordance, subject index and proper names, are of the highest order. It will be issued in styles and bindings to correspond with the well-known Oxford editions. The typesetting was done by the Riverside Press, and the proofs read by the same persons who read the proofs of Webster's Dictionary. All the mechanical parts of the work, the binding, etc., was done in this country. A full line of these Bibles will also be issued in various bindings, from Levant morocco with divinity circuit edges to the cheaper forms.

GEORGE O. SEILHAMER, author of the "History of the American Theatre," suffered a serious loss in the burning of the Times Annex in Philadelphia, on the evening of April 27. Mr. Seilhamer, who is a member of the Times editorial staff, had stored much of his dramatic history, many valuable MSS. and engravings in the Annex. The fire destroyed 250 copies of volume three of his "History of the American Theatre," which is limited to 500 copies, and forty-two sets of rare prints intended to illustrate it. The sets were of great historical value, and were all that remained of fifty that were presented to Mr. Seilhamer by Augustin Daly in recognition of his valuable contribution to the literature of the stage. Each set included thirteen plate portraits of famous actors and actresses of the olden time. There are now but eight sets in existence. Mr. Seilhamer will be able, however, to supply his subscribers with volume three of the history, as he had at home a number of copies and a few were at the printers, making in all enough to go round. These will be held for subscribers during the month of May, at the ordinary retail price. Those who have not received their copies will oblige by informing Mr. Seilhamer of the fact, as his subscription and account books were also destroyed.

PICK-UPS.

A FRIEND of ours, then living in Racine, ordered, with other books, from Chicago a copy of Canon Farrar's book, "Seekers After God," just then out. In a short time the other volumes came to hand, but being out of the Canon's book the publishers wrote at the bottom of the invoice: "No seekers after God in Chicago."—St. Mark's Monthly.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Books for Exchange," the charge is 10 cents per line. No deduction for standing matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis, will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

A BOOK OF SURPASSING INTEREST IS

THE CHINESE:

Their Present and Future; Medical Political and Social.

By ROBERT COLTMAN, Jr., M.D.,

Surgeon in Charge of the Presbyterian Hospital and Dispensary at Teng Chow Fu.

The author has spent many years among the Chinese; lived with them in their dwellings; thoroughly learned the language; has become conversant with all their strange and odd characteristics to a greater extent than almost any other American. The simple, direct, straight-forward style in which Dr. Coltman has written this book makes it entertaining and fascinating as well as profitable reading throughout.

The book is beautifully printed in large, clear type, and is illustrated with fifteen fine engravings from photographs of persons, places and objects characteristic of China. In one handsome royal octavo volume of 212 pages, appropriately bound in extra cloth, with Chinese side stamp, $1.75, net.

THE DAUGHTER:

Her Health, Education and Wedlock.HOMELY SUGGESTIONS TO MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS CONCERNING CHILDHOOD, MAIDENHOOD, WIFEHOOD AND MOTHERHOOD.

By WILLIAM M. CAPP, M.D., Philadelphia.

This valuable little volume belongs to a most important class of books, and it is everywhere recognized as one of the very best. Beautifully printed, large, clear type, 12mo, 150 pages, handsomely bound in extra cloth, $1.00, net.

"A clear, practical and wholesome volume of hygienic suggestions, without prudery on the one hand, and without technical or unnecessary professional minuteness on the other. The author's purpose is high, and his achievement helpful."—The Sunday-School Times.

CONSUMPTION!

How to Prevent It and How to Live with It.ITS NATURE, CAUSES, PREVENTION, AND THE MODE OF LIFE, CLIMATE, EXERCISE, FOOD AND CLOTHING, NECESSARY FOR ITS CURE.

By N. S. DAVIS, Jr., A.M., M.D.,

Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine in Chicago Medical College, etc., etc.

A plain, practical treatise, thoroughly readable and scientifically accurate. 12mo, 143 pages, extra cloth, 75 cents, net.

"THE ST. LOUIS WEEKLY MEDICAL REVIEW says: "He is very thorough in his discussion of the subject, and the practical hints which he gives are of real worth and value. His directions are given in such a manner as to make life enjoyable to a consumptive patient and not a burden, as is too frequently the case."

Cardinal Manning.

By A. W. HUTTON. With a portrait. 12mo, $1.00. [May 7.]

The late Cardinal Manning was so prominent a figure for many years in the religious life of England, first in the Anglican Church and later in the Roman Catholic, that he should certainly be included in the series of English Leaders of Religion. Mr. Hutton has written a careful, discriminating and readable account of his career.

Ready SATURDAY, May 14:

The Evolution of Christianity.

By LYMAN ABBOTT, D.D. 1 vol., 16mo, $1.25.

This book reproduces, with careful revision and some additions, the remarkable lectures delivered by Dr. Abbott before the Lowell Institute in Boston a few weeks ago. They attracted crowded audiences and caused a great deal of discussion. They present in a clear, forcible and popular style a multitude of facts and suggestions on the most important subjects of religious thought, and can hardly fail to enlighten and inspire the large circle of readers they will surely win.

IS THIS THE GREAT AMERICAN NOVEL?
 JUST ISSUED.

A MAN AND A WOMAN.

By STANLEY WATERLOO.

Large 12mo, cloth extra, gilt top, $1.25; paper covers, 50 cents.

"This is an analytical story of surpassing power and interest. It comes as near being a true story as can be told by any reporter of human actions. In every line of the book truth is written so fearlessly and so simply that the wonder is that such feat has ever been thought difficult. And yet how hard it is no one knows until absolute trial is made. . . . 'A Man and a Woman' is not a book written for the 'young person,' and yet it is not offensive in any sense, and there is certainly nothing in it to excite the passions or deprave the mind. . . . Added to the interest of the tale is the clear-cut, lucid and finished style in which it is written. It is a very choice piece of English and promises to be the novel of the season."—Chicago Herald.

First American Edition of William Sharp's Poems

PUBLISHED TO-DAY.

FLOWER O' THE VINE: ROMANTIC BALLADS

AND

SOSPIRI DI ROMA.

BY WILLIAM SHARP.

AUTHOR OF "A Fellowe and His Wife" (with Miss Howard), "Life and Letters of Joseph Severn," etc.

WITH INTRODUCTION BY THOMAS J. JANVIER.
Portrait of the Author.

Contains the poems which Mr. Sharp considers his most representative work. As one of the leading English poets of the younger generation, the publishers anticipate for his "FLOWER O' THE VINE" equal success in America with that already obtained in England for the volumes which have preceded it.

"His ballads are not mere masses of rhymes dexterously fitted together; they are poems with living souls."—MR. JANVIER'S INTRODUCTION.

"The diction of the 'Sospiri' is almost always felicitous, often quite exquisite. . . . Often the very words give pleasure, irrespective of their context."—THE ATHENÆUM.

"Walter Graham, Statesman."

"The professional novel reader," says the Philadelphia Inquirer, "who has grown weary of the average American story, will find something entirely different in 'Walter Graham, Statesman.' To get out of old ruts is not only refreshing but sometimes absolutely necessary to preserve the clearness of our vision, it is therefore that we recommend to your careful consideration "Walter Graham, Statesman," of which, to put the whole matter briefly in the language of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, "Evidently the writer knows what he is talking about."
